What is GivingTuesday?

GivingTuesday is a global day of giving that happens each year after Black Friday and Cyber Monday.

It's a time when Canadians, charities and businesses come together to celebrate giving and participate in activities that support charities and non-profits.

There is no "right" way to participate as long as it supports generosity and giving. Donate, volunteer time, help a neighbour, or spread the word.

Why Participate?

- Engage employees in a global movement that is fun and creates a big impact.
- Make a big impact for the causes you support and help them leverage your contribution for even more benefit.
- Demonstrate your commitment to community.
- Engage customers around something they care about.

3 Easy Steps to Get Involved

1. Register as a GivingTuesday Partner – It's free!

Take just a minute to sign up at GivingTuesday.ca. This way you will stay connected to the GivingTuesday community and get continued access to tools and resources to make your GivingTuesday celebration a success.

2. Plan an Activity (here are a few ideas).

- Employee engagement – let staff pick a charity and organize a campaign to raise awareness and/or donations. You can set this up any way that works for you – payroll deductions, collections of spare change, 50/50 draws, bake sales or any other idea employees come up with.
- Matching donations – pick a favourite charity or non-profit and match donations that the charity receives on GivingTuesday (you can set a maximum total $ value).

- Volunteer – offer your staff a day or half a day where they can take off and volunteer for a local charity. (Check out this GivingTuesday Volunteering Guide for Businesses from Volinspire.)
- Amplify an existing initiative – lots of businesses are already supporting local causes. If you already have something planned in December, use GivingTuesday to launch, amplify and celebrate your campaign!
- Collection jars or food drive – collect donations from staff and/or the public for the month or week leading up to GivingTuesday.
- Blood drive / organ donations – you can invite Canadian Blood Services to your office for a day or simply ask people to make appointments to donate or sign their donor cards.

Frequently Asked Questions

What is GivingTuesday?

Most people know about Black Friday and Cyber Monday ... now we have GivingTuesday, November 27, 2018. It is a global movement for giving and volunteering, taking place each year after Black Friday. The “Opening day of the giving season”, it’s a time where charities, companies and individuals join together and rally for favourite causes. In the same way that retailers take part in Black Friday, the giving community has come together for GivingTuesday. We ask that partners create and commit to a project for GivingTuesday and then help spread the word to their networks.

How did GivingTuesday start?

GivingTuesday was started in Canada by a group of organizations including GIV3, CanadaHelps.org, and now includes over 6,000 partners. GivingTuesday was originally started in the US in 2012 by the UN Foundation, the NYC 92Y and several other community organizations.

What about the rest of the year?

GivingTuesday is “the opening day of the giving season”. Giving is a lifelong commitment, and a giving day is a special celebration, a reminder to all of us to think of others and our communities as well as ourselves. The most successful GivingTuesday campaigns were planned and launched weeks before GivingTuesday, and many lasted until the end of December. Of course, we also encourage giving back throughout the year, whether through donations, volunteering or acts of kindness. GivingTuesday is more than a moment, it’s a movement.

Did GivingTuesday make a difference last year?

Over 6,000 partners came together for the 5th annual GivingTuesday in Canada in 2017. The movement also went Global, with activities in over 150 countries. Canadian online giving has increased by +468% since 2012 as measured by CanadaHelps.

Can organizations get donations through the GivingTuesday website?

GivingTuesday is a movement, not a donations processor; however, you can search for a charity and donate through CanadaHelps.org, directly on our landing page at GivingTuesday.ca. You can also link directly to GivingTuesday partner charities by clicking on their logo in the partner section. In this way all donations go directly to the charity of choice.

Does GivingTuesday charge any fees?

GivingTuesday is a free, open and inclusive movement. There are no fees to become a partner and no hidden charges for participating in GivingTuesday activities. Charitable donations made through GivingTuesday.ca are processed by CanadaHelps.org and are subject to standard CanadaHelps fees which are low, non-commercial rates covering credit card fees and processing

Who can participate/partner?

Everyone! GivingTuesday is a public movement and we encourage everyone to get involved. To be an official partner, you must be a registered charity or non-profit with a specific GivingTuesday initiative, or a business, school, or community group committing to a project to benefit at least one registered charity or non-profit. Example: Your company is planning a canned food drive and employees will be volunteering to help assemble food baskets. Here's a hint – the more creative, the better. Families and individuals are encouraged to join the movement by giving and volunteering in whatever ways matter to them, or by getting their favourite charity involved in GivingTuesday.
